Gifted Angels - Service Learning Project

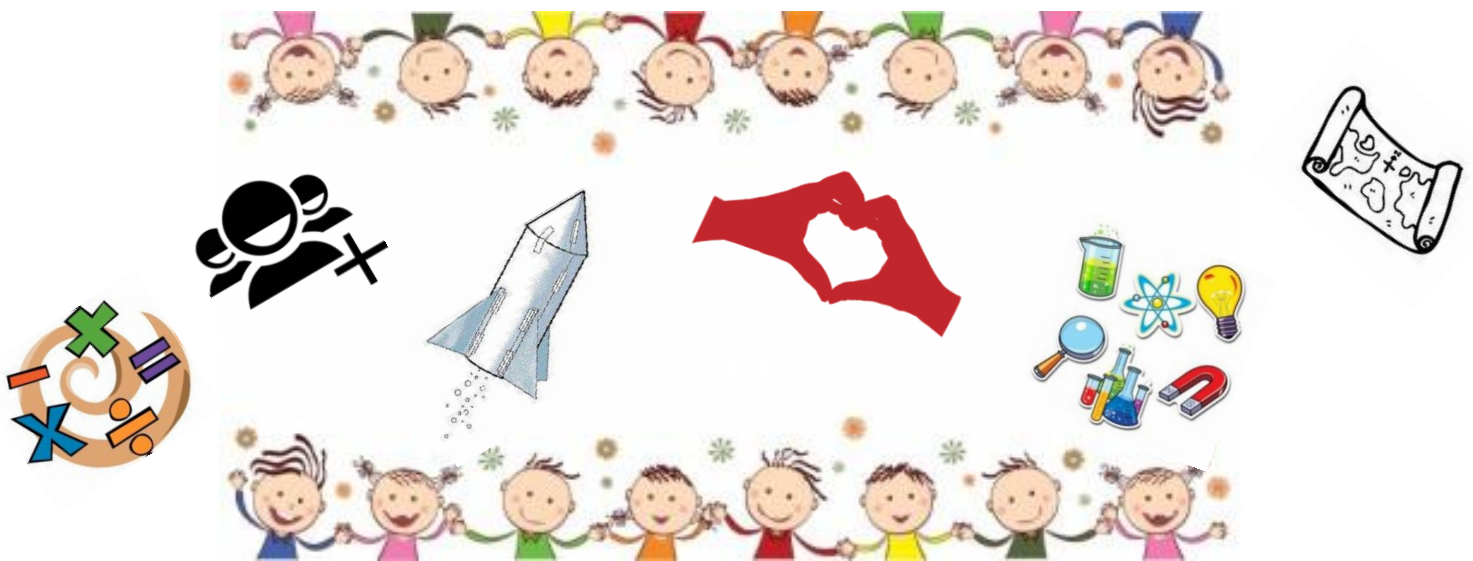

Lux in Tenebris Lucet (APPS2531)

The world is unfair. Some are born fortunate but some may have less access to learning opportunities. But it is lucky that we could help the less fortunate ones. Here's the golden chance for us all! Lux in Tenebris Lucet provides a platform that you could serve the International Social Service Hong Kong Branch's small group home where you can meet kids from different family backgrounds, and have great fun in science experiments and mathematical games. You don't have to be a professional social worker or scientist. Just follow your heart and take your brain with you, literally! We welcome you to join us!

If you want to...

-  Contribute to the less fortunate children and society
-  Share the fun of science and mathematics
-  Expand your social circle
-  Learn to be a leader and grow together with the kids delightfully

You're the angels we're looking for!!

Join us and make this summertime
a FRUITFUL and SPECIAL one!

Introduction

As part of this project, you will enjoy the fun science experiments and mathematical games with the children. Through this, we are helping the children from the small group home to learn and cultivate their interest in science and mathematics areas. You will have a chance to improve your communication skills, leadership and sensitivity to the needy. It is also a golden chance to make friends with your teammates and the children. Together, let's grow with the children!

This is going to be a wonderful and meaningful experience for us!
