Inside Out Series: Self-Management (IV)

Programme Officer, HKAGE

Application Deadline
28 February 2022
12:00 noon

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the programme, participants should be able to:

1. identify different anger management skills and alternative ways to express anger;
2. recognise the positive reactions of anger;
3. acquire the knowledge and skills for Nonviolent Communication

◆ Introduction of the Series

The 'Inside Out Series' is a workshop series related to affective education, it covers topics like self-concept, self-management and social relationships of gifted students. This series aims at fostering gifted students' whole-person development from the inside out by enabling them to understand themselves, enhance their self-management skills, and eventually build positive social relationships with the outside world. In the workshops of the Self-Management Series, you will learn how you are influenced by conformity, the difference between healthy and unhealthy perfectionism, some emotional, stress and time management skills etc. If you are interested in understanding self-management, don't miss this opportunity. You are also encouraged to complete the whole series for mastering the self-management skills progressively.

◆ Introduction of the Workshop

Many gifted students are highly sensitive to their environment and react with strong emotional and behavioural responses; anger is an emotion that is commonly encountered by many students.

The workshop introduces anger management skills and alternative ways to express anger-Nonviolent Communication (NVC). Participants would learn to listen and speak which lead them to give from the heart, connect with themselves and allow their natural empathy to flourish.
